

Getting a Handle On Your Waste Size: Introduction to Environmental Management & Pollution Prevention

This seminar covers information on basic environmental issues, multi-media compliance, Emergency Planning & Community Right-To-Know (EPCRA), and pollution prevention information and assistance. During this seminar we'll discuss Environmental Management Systems (EMS), the need for a Pollution Prevention Plan (P3), and the benefits of each—including creating inventory lists for hazardous/solid wastes, air emission sources, water pollution sources, understanding MSDSs and how to use them. Participants will get help in understanding HAZWASTE—how to quantify monthly generation, identifying, & management.

To emphasize these issues we've incorporated an interactive exercise on waste generation and prevention. Attendees are asked to bring the company's Chemical Inventory List (Do Not bring any MSDSs), Waste generation & disposal data, Process information, Emission or release information, Current Tier 2 or TRI reports. None of this material or information will leave the control of the attendee during this seminar. Participants will receive a manual "How to Inventory Your Waste for Environmental Compliance."

Assistance in prioritizing pollution prevention projects will be covered, with potential Best Management Practices including recycling, reuse, waste minimization, water use reduction, Zero Emission Systems, or process controls. Training, recordkeeping, required reporting (federal and state), available Oklahoma Tax Credits for Pollution Prevention, and the Oklahoma Star Incentive Program, will also be addressed.
