Oklahoma Recycling Seminar Set for December 8

Recycling through a recession will be the focus of this year's Oklahoma Recycling Seminar, scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 8 in Stillwater. The full day seminar will take place at Oklahoma State University's ConocoPhillips Alumni Center.

The seminar is designed for city and county government officials, recycling professionals, community leaders, educators, students and Oklahoma residents interested in recycling or expanding local programs. Seminar registration includes all sessions, a buffet lunch and breaks. Cost is $25 if registering by November 23 and $35 thereafter. Students can attend for $20. Participants can download registration forms at <http://recycleok.org/recycling-seminar.php> or register by contacting OSU Ag Conference Services at 405-744-6489.

Following the seminar, there will be an optional site visit of the Stillwater Convenience Collection Center. This tour is included as part of the basic registration fee.

"Recycling through a Recession" is hosted by the Oklahoma Recycling Association (OKRA) and the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service, and is sponsored by the Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality, OGE Energy Corp. and Busch Container Systems. Up to five hours of continuing education credits will be available to members of the Solid Waste Association of North America who attend the seminar.

For more information, visit OKRA's Web site at <http://recycleok.org> or contact Ilda Hershey at 405-744-9806
