Earth Day Network

<http://earthday.net/>

Earth Day Network's Education Program allows teachers to register to become part of the national Earth Day Network of over 100,000 educators. Free registration includes a variety of creative events and activities for your classroom, school, or community; downloadable interactive lesson plans and activities for Earth Day; and local, national, and international news updates leading up to the annual global Earth Day celebration.

Green Teacher

<http://www.greenteacher.com/articles/EarthWeekIdeas.pdf>

Celebrating Earth Week: It's Elemental: A collection of ideas, activities and resources for exploring and celebrating our connections to the earth during Earth Week. (Themes include water, fire, earth, air and spirit of life.)

Portal for US Government Earth Day Events

<http://www.earthday.gov>

Earthday.gov is a website that lists Earth Day events in your state and events being hosted or coordinated by the various government agencies and it also provides links to the other US Government Earth Day websites. It also provides activities to do At Home, In Your Classroom, and At Work on Earth Day.

Envirolink- Earth Day 2004 Online

<http://earthday.envirolink.org/>

The Envirolink Network is an online clearinghouse for environmental information since 1991. This website compiles a comprehensive list of Earth Day events occurring each year, an organizer's guide to celebrate Earth Day in your community, a history of Earth Day, and a section to add your local event to the Earth Day Calendar.
