Two pictures of the nameplates on the new autoclave are at the bottom of this email thread. One is for the pressure vessel itself and the Bondtech one is for the door (per Ralph).

Good morning Amy,

Does the Bondtech Autoclave have a serial number, model number or other identifying classification?

Thanks,

Cindy,

Thank-you for the information on the public notice. We will submit the draft to you shortly.

The signature page on the permit modification request submitted to you earlier today did not include the applicant's signature. An updated submittal with the applicant's signature is attached.

Sincerely,

Amy Hesseltnine, P.E.

Subject: RE: Permit No. 3541014 - Tier II Permit Modification Request

Hi Amy,

I received your application and logged it into the facility file.

OAC 252:4-7-4(b) requires the applicant to place one (1) copy for public review in the county in which the facility is located. I am attaching an application filed public notice template. Please fill it out and return it to me for approval. When the notice is approved, you may publish it in a newspaper local to the facility. Please let me know when and where it will be published. The publication date will be the start of the 30-day public notice period.

When the notice is published, Stericycle has 20 days, in accordance with OAC 252:4-7-13(d), to submit an affidavit of publication to DEQ.

(d) Proof of publication. Within twenty (20) days after the date of publication, an applicant shall provide the DEQ with a written affidavit of publication for each notice published. In case of a mistake in a published notice, the DEQ shall require a legal notice of correction or republication of the entire notice, whichever is appropriate. Inconsequential errors in spelling, grammar or punctuation shall not be cause for correction or republication.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
