The Drinking Water Program: An Overview

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) established the Public Water System Supervision (PWSS) Program under the authority of the 1974 Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA). Under SDWA and the 1986 Amendments, EPA sets national limits on contaminant levels in drinking water to ensure that the water is safe for human consumption. These limits are known as maximum contaminant levels (MCLs) and maximum residual disinfectant levels (MRDLs). For some regulations, EPA establishes treatment techniques (TTs) in lieu of an MCL to control unacceptable levels of contaminants in water. EPA also regulates how often public water supply systems (PWSs) monitor their water for contaminants and report the monitoring results to the states or EPA. Generally, the larger the population served by a water system, the more frequent the monitoring and reporting (M/R) requirements are. In addition, EPA requires PWSs to monitor for unregulated contaminants to provide data for future regulatory development. Finally, EPA requires PWSs to notify their consumers when they have violated these regulations. The 1996 Amendments to the SDWA require consumer notification to include a clear and understandable explanation of the nature of the violation, its potential adverse health effects, steps that the PWS is undertaking to correct the violation, and the possibility of alternative water supplies for use during the violation.

The SDWA applies to the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Indian Lands, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Republic of Palau.

The SDWA allows states and territories to seek EPA approval to administer their own PWSS Programs. The authority to run a PWSS Program is called primacy. For a state to receive primacy, EPA must determine that the state meets certain requirements laid out in the SDWA and the regulations, including the adoption of drinking water regulations that are at least as stringent as the Federal regulations and a demonstration that they can enforce the program requirements. Of the 56 states and territories, all but Wyoming and the District of Columbia have primacy. The EPA Regional Offices administer the PWSS Programs within these two jurisdictions. The Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) is the primacy agency for the State of Oklahoma Drinking Water Program.

The 1986 SDWA Amendments gave Indian Tribes the right to apply for and receive primacy. EPA currently administers PWSS Programs on all Indian lands except the Navajo nation, which was granted primacy in late 2000.

Annual State PWS Report

Each quarter, primacy states submit data to the EPA Safe Drinking Water Information System (SDWIS/FED), an automated database maintained by EPA. The data submitted include but are not limited to, PWS inventory information, incidence of MCLs, MRDLs, monitoring and treatment technique violations, and information on enforcement activity related to these violations. Section 1414(c) (3) of the Safe Drinking Water Act requires states to provide EPA with an annual report of the violations in each of six categories: MCLs, MRDLs, TTs, variances and exemptions, significant monitoring violations, and significant consumer notification violations. Violation and enforcement action data are stored in the SDWIS/FED database. The tables in this report are based largely on data retrieved from DEQ databases.

Maximum Contaminant Level

Under SDWA, EPA sets national limits on contaminant levels in drinking water to ensure that the water is safe for human consumption. These limits are known as Maximum Contaminant Levels (MCLs).

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Levels

The EPA sets national limits on residual disinfectant levels in drinking water to reduce the risk of exposure to disinfectant byproducts formed when PWSs add chemical disinfectant for either primary or residual treatment. These are known as Maximum Residual Disinfectant Levels (MRDLs).

Treatment Techniques

For some regulations, the EPA establishes treatment techniques (TTs) in lieu of an MCL to control unacceptable levels of certain contaminants. For example, TTs have been established for viruses, some bacteria, total organic carbon and turbidity.

Variances and Exemptions

A primacy state can grant a PWS a variance from a primary drinking water regulation if the characteristics of the raw water sources reasonably available to the PWS do not allow the system to meet the MCL. To obtain a variance, the system must agree to install the best available technology, treatment techniques, or other means of limiting drinking water contamination that the Administrator finds are available (taking costs into account), and the state must find that the variance will not result in an unreasonable risk to public health. At the time the variance is granted, the state must prescribe a schedule (including increments of progress) the PWS will follow to come into eventual compliance with the MCL. Small systems (those serving 3,300 or fewer persons; or 10,000 or fewer persons with the Administrator's approval) may also be granted variances if they cannot afford (as determined by application of the Administrator's affordability criteria) to comply with certain MCLs (non-microbial, promulgated after January 1, 1986) by means of treatment, alternative source of water, or restructuring or consolidation. Small systems will be allowed three (3) years to install and operate EPA approved small system variance technology. The variance shall be reviewed not less than every five (5) years to determine if the system remains eligible for the variance.

A primacy state can grant an exemption temporarily relieving a PWS of its obligation to comply with an MCL, treatment technique, or both if the system's noncompliance results from compelling factors (which may include economic factors) and the system was in operation on the effective date of the MCL or treatment technique requirement. A new PWS that was not in operation on the effective date of the MCL or treatment technique requirement by that date may be granted an exemption only if no reasonable alternative source of drinking water is available to the new system. Neither an old or a new PWS is eligible for an exemption if management or restructuring changes can reasonably be made that will result in compliance with the SDWA or improvement of water quality, or if the exemption will result in an unreasonable risk to public health. The state will require the PWS to comply with the MCL or treatment technique as expeditiously as practicable, but not later than 3 years after the otherwise applicable compliance date.

While DEQ routinely provides variances to PWS from state construction and operations requirements when the PWS can successfully document that the variance will be at least as protective of public health as the regulation, DEQ has never granted a variance to a PWS for meeting an MCL or treatment technique under this provision of the SDWA.

Monitoring

A PWS is required to monitor and verify that the levels of contaminants present in the water do not exceed the MCL. If a PWS fails to have its water tested as required or fails to report test results correctly to the primacy agent, a monitoring violation occurs.

Significant Monitoring Violations

For this report, significant monitoring violations are generally defined as any major monitoring violation that occurred during the calendar year of the report. A major monitoring violation, with rare exceptions, occurs when no samples were taken, or no results were reported during a compliance period.

Consumer Notification

Every Community Water System is required to deliver to its customers a brief annual water quality report. This report is to include some educational material, and will provide information on the source water, the levels of any detected contaminants, and compliance with drinking water regulations.

Significant Consumer Notification Violations

For this report, a significant public notification violation occurred if a community water system completely failed to provide its customers the required annual water quality report.

Public Water Supply Inventory – Calendar Year 2024

The SDWA defines a Public Water Supply system (PWS) as a system that provides water via piping or other constructed conveyances for human consumption to at least 15 service connections or serves an average of at least 25 people for at least 60 days each year. There are three types of PWSs. PWSs can be community (such as towns and rural water districts), non-transient non-community (such as schools or factories), or transient non-community systems (such as rest stops or parks). For this report, the acronym “PWS” means systems of all types unless specified in greater detail.

The Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality also recognizes smaller systems as public water supplies. These public water supplies are referred to as minor or non-public water systems. Violations and enforcement actions for minor public water supply systems are not reported to SDWIS and are not included in this report.

The number of Community, Non-Transient Non-Community, and Non-Community water systems and the population served by each is given in the following table. The average number of individuals that consume water from each system each day is used to calculate the number of residents served by a public water supply. Because some systems are restaurants, tourist attractions, etc., individuals may be counted more than once due to where they patronize or work. Out-of-state individuals that visit or do business in the state are also counted.

Table A: Public Water Supply Systems by Type	Number of Systems	Population
Community Systems (C)	903	3,849,377

Non-Community Systems (NC)	291	25,481
Total PWS systems meeting Federal Definition	1,267	3,894,003

Public water supply systems may receive their water from groundwater wells, surface water impoundments or reservoirs, or purchase water from other systems for their primary source of drinking water or for supplemental supply. The number of groundwater, surface water, and purchase systems and the population served by each type is given in the table below. Eighty-four percent (84%) of the population is served by surface water or purchased from surface water systems.

Comments and Remarks

The State of Oklahoma's Public Water Supply Program currently oversees one thousand two hundred sixty-seven (1,267) public water supplies (PWS) that meet the federal definition of a PWS. The grand total number of violations for the calendar year of 2024 was twelve thousand five hundred ninety-five (12,595). Some PWS systems may be counted more than once if they incurred multiple violations. The actual total number of public water systems in violation of an MCL was one hundred ninety (190). Of one thousand two hundred sixty-seven (1,267) systems, one thousand seventy-seven (1,077) or eighty-five percent (85%) of these systems reported no maximum contaminant level (MCL) violations. Five hundred seventy-six (576) systems or forty-five percent (45%) of the one thousand two hundred sixty-seven (1,267) PWSs incurred a violation at some point during the calendar year of 2024.

Twenty-one (21) systems had six (6) violations for exceeding the MCL for arsenic. Six (6) systems had violations for arsenic monitoring. Seven (7) systems had twenty-five (25) violations for exceeding the MCL of the Inorganic Chemical Contaminant (IOC) group. Eleven (11) systems had twenty-two (22) violations for IOC group monitoring. Twenty-three (23) systems had fifty (50) violations for exceeding the nitrate MCL standard in at least one of their point of entries during the calendar year of 2024. One hundred and eight (108) systems had one hundred fifty-three (153) nitrate monitoring violations. Zero (0) systems had Synthetic Organic Contaminant (SOC) group MCL violations. One hundred sixty-five (165) systems had eight thousand two hundred ninety-one (8,291) SOC monitoring violations. No systems had Volatile Organic Chemical Contaminant (VOC) group MCL violations. Thirty-two (32) systems had one thousand four-hundred forty-one (1,441) VOC contaminant monitoring violations.

Eight (8) systems had twenty-one (21) radionuclide MCL violations in the calendar year 2024. Twenty (20) systems had two hundred forty (240) violations for radionuclide monitoring. One hundred twenty-five (125) systems had five hundred eighty-seven (587) violations of the Disinfection Byproducts Rule (DBPR) MCL. Twenty-three (23) systems had fifty-six (56) violations of the DBPR treatment technique requirement. Two hundred twenty-one (221) systems had five hundred ninety-six (596) monitoring violations for the DBPR.

Six (6) systems had seven (7) Revised Total Coliform Rule (RTCR) acute MCL violations, meaning six (6) mandatory Boil Orders were issued for these PWS that tested positive for E-coli. Two hundred ninety-four (294) systems had six hundred thirty-three (633) monitoring violations for the RTCR. Zero (0) systems had a treatment technique violation for the Lead and Copper Rule. Sixty-nine (69) systems had ninety-four (94) monitoring violations for the Lead and Copper Rule. Zero (0) systems had Ground Water Rule (GWR) Treatment Technique violations. Type of Enforcement Actions	Number of Enforcement Actions Issued
Informal Enforcement Letters	2,303
Notices of Violation/Consent Orders	432
Administrative Compliance Orders	0
Boil Orders	12
Total Number of Enforcement Actions	2,747
Return to Compliance	2,528

The Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality issued two thousand seven hundred forty-seven (2,747) enforcement actions in response to the violations listed in this report. These enforcement actions consisted of two thousand three hundred three (2,303) informal enforcement letters, four hundred thirty-two (432) Notices of Violation /Consent Orders, Zero (0) Administrative Compliance Orders, and twelve (12) Boil Orders were administered. Two thousand five hundred twenty-eight (2,528) systems were returned to compliance during the calendar year of 2024.

An informal enforcement letter is the first document issued to facilities when they fail to monitor. A Notice of Violation is the first formal enforcement document issued to facilities when they exceed MCLs or fail to meet DEQ rules and regulations concerning matters such as construction deficiencies or operating procedures. A Consent Order is typically the next document issued. The Consent Order is an agreement between the facility and DEQ and details the tasks and deadlines for correcting the cited violation(s). An Administrative Compliance Order is a document that is issued when time is limited and there is a significant health hazard or when the water system refuses to agree to the Consent Order. Both Consent Orders and the Administrative Compliance Orders have stipulated penalties for failing to meet the compliance deadlines contained in the orders. Boil Orders are issued to facilities that have an acute, E. coli bacteriological MCL violation or to facilities that are experiencing severe treatment failures, exceedances of turbidity standards, insufficient chlorine residuals, and low pressure. Boil Orders require immediate notice to all consumers to inform the public of how to make their water safe for human consumption.
